TRUNKS, TRAVELING BAGS AND SUIT CASES

We have no hesitancy in saying that we have the most complete stock of travelers' needs to be found in El Paso or in the entire Southwest. Another point that we want to make is that the prices we ask are considerably less than others charge for the same grade goods, that is in case they should happen to have anything just as good as we have.

REMEMBER! Our trunks and suit cases are the best travelers on earth.

SAYS COMPANY WAS DISSOLVED

John D. Rockefeller Becomes Emphatic on Witness Stand in Missouri.

New York, May 29.—John D. Rockefeller, retired head of the dissolved Standard Oil company, was placed on the witness stand here to tell whether he believed the company had been really dissolved under the decree of the United States supreme court.

The oil millionaire could not be induced at all times to give direct answers to questions, but made indignant denial of all suggestions that there had been any effort to evade the decree of the court.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared as a witness in the action brought nominally by Missouri to compel the inspectors of the election of the stockholders of the Waters-Pierce Oil company at St. Louis last February to vote the proxies of the Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests, which had named Standard Oil men as officers of the company.

The inspectors refused on the ground that to do so would violate the dissolution decree of the supreme court of the United States, and of the decision of the Missouri supreme court ordering the Standard Oil company of Indiana from the former state. The Waters-Pierce interests alleged in fighting to prevent the Standard Oil representatives from gaining control of the company that the manner in which the Standard Oil interests had observed the decree of the United States court was "farical."

Founders His First.

Mr. Rockefeller was subjected to a grilling examination by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests that caused the witness to pound his fists on the table to emphasize his indignant denial of pointed questions as to whether the decree of the court had been in fact carried out.

"Did you ever have a discussion with John D. Archibald as how three standard could be 'cut loose and still be held tight?' queried the Waters-Pierce attorney.

"There was never any thought of cutting loose and holding tight," Mr. Rockefeller almost shouted. "I happen to know about that."

Mr. Rockefeller had previously made the statement that he had never read the United States supreme court decision, although he knew about it "in a general way."

Would Not Make Direct Answers.

Mr. Untermyer had the most difficultly throughout the examination to get him to answer questions "yes" or "no." Mr. Rockefeller persisted in giving his own answers in his own way, nor could he be induced to change his tactics, even after commissioner Jacobs, appointed to take the testimony, had instructed him to give a direct answer.

After declaring that he had given the

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients."

It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumin water very nourishing and refreshing. This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice or flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients."

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fog, a 10 days' trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding, and in this way ending the trouble. "There's a reason" and trial proves.

COLISEUM WILL SEAT 12,000 PEOPLE

Acoustics Are Perfect; Elaborate Plans For Coming Republican Convention.

Chicago, Ill., May 29.—Elaborate plans for the seating and decorative features of the Convention at the Coliseum will be made by Arthur G. Brown, the building architect, and a force of artisans is now at work remodeling the big structure.

Profiting by his experience in planning the convention hall on two previous occasions, Mr. Brown is making special efforts to make use of every inch of space, and at the same time care for the comfort and convenience of the 12,000 persons who will occupy the building during the struggle for the Republican nomination.

The speaker's platform will occupy the same position as four years ago at the south end of the main auditorium. Back of the platform will be an elevated structure of seats reserved for the distinguished guests of the convention.

In front of the speaker's platform and on one level will be the seats of the 2000 delegates and alternates. The latter will be seated directly behind the speaker's platform.

Elaborate arrangements have been made to assist in the dissemination of news. In the basement large telegraph and work rooms have been arranged, and these will be connected with the press stands by "blind" alleys for the private use of the newspaper men.

The acoustic properties of the hall have been tested by Mr. Brown and found to be in such splendid shape there will be no need for the putting in of additional sounding boards.

Any well modulated voice can be heard in the hall by every person present," Mr. Brown said, regarding this feature.

Special attention has been paid to arrangements for the comfort of the convention guests. An emergency hospital will be located in the basement and there will be rest rooms for women who become fatigued and restaurant rooms. Also a drink emporium will be erected just outside the hall entrance. Those who wish libations will have to go outside the hall to get them.

In the annex, lounging and retiring rooms for members of the national committee will be arranged. The committee expects to hold several long sessions in preparing the preliminary work of the convention, and the rooms will be useful on those occasions.

Many Exits.

Another feature which is being carefully looked after is the safety of those in the hall in case of fire. Although the building is fireproof, having a main facade of granite and arches of steel, no chances are being taken. Eleven entrances have been arranged, half of them leading into Washington avenue, and the others into the alley in the rear.

To guide visitors to their seats, big signs will be placed above all the entrances, which will notify them at which one to present their tickets. Banners also will be suspended across nearly every intersection giving the same information.

The national colors will predominate in the decoration scheme. The walls surface at the south end of the hall, directly back of the speaker's platform, will be a bower of American flags, with a large president's flag as a centerpiece. Draped from this will be long streamers of bunting. These streamers will be placed entirely around the hall and, at 20 foot intervals, will be caught up by shields or other emblems.

Above the east and west end steel trusses, which support the arch, will be 15-foot American flags and the same scheme will be carried out in covering around the hall and, at 20 foot intervals, will be caught up by shields or other emblems.

Dr. Fred W. Upham, chairman of the Chicago committee, and Col. New have been cooperating with Mr. Brown in making the arrangements.

CAVALRY DETAIL FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Will Fire Salute Over the Graves of Veterans; a General Observance.

Memorial day will be formally observed in El Paso and Fort Bliss for the first time in a number of years. At 9:30 Thursday morning the Grand Army of the Republic will assemble on the steps of the federal building and will proceed to Evergreen and Concordia cemeteries, where the graves of the dead veterans of the two great armies have been appropriately marked with American flags. Each grave will be decorated with a wreath of sweet peas, this being the first year that an effort has been made to mark the graves of the dead veterans.

Antioch for the Veterans.

A committee of patriotic women, led by Mrs. T. J. Jones and Mrs. E. Kelly, has arranged for automobiles to take the grizzled veterans of the great conflict to the cemeteries. A group of white-gowned little girls will accompany the veterans in the autos and will distribute the flowers on the graves, which have been marked by the regulation American flags, furnished by the government. The veterans will meet at the entrance to Evergreen cemetery by a squad of cavalrymen from the Washington park camp of the fourth cavalry. This squad will act as the firing squad and will fire a salute over the graves of the deceased veterans at the close of the brief ceremony. The graves of the living veterans will be decorated with American flags.

Observance at Fort Bliss.

At Fort Bliss the formal Memorial day ceremony will be held in compliance with the army regulation. At 9:30 a. m. the troops will assemble on parade and will play appropriate music in memory of the civil war dead. The flag of the parade square will remain at half mast during the morning. A salute of 21 guns will be fired at noon and patriotic music will again be played in the evening at retreat.

In keeping with a custom which has originated with the grand commander of the G. A. R., the veterans will remain uncovered at the noon hour as a mark of respect for their comrades who have died during the year. This observance will be general throughout the country.

The autos which will carry the veterans of the civil war to the cemeteries will be decorated with flags and the business men will be asked to decorate their buildings with American flags Thursday.

The Anson Mills building, monument to one of the civil war heroes, will be decorated from curb to parapet Thursday. In keeping with the Memorial day spirit, the windows of the big building will be hung with flags and the big flagpole on the roof will be draped with a new American flag.

St. Clement's club will observe Memorial day with a meeting at Kendrick hall, the parish house of the church, Chaplain Thomas Livingston will give a talk on soldier life and the battery quartet will sing. The post card invitations say to "come and bring a friend or two."

WAITERS STRIKE; RIOT RESULTS

Police Compelled to Fire Revolvers to Frighten Participants.

New York, N. Y., May 29.—Disorders developed last night in connection with the hotel waiters' strike and theater going crowds on Broadway were pained by a riot in which scores of persons were injured.

The Hotel Men's association of New York and the Allied Waiters' association reached an agreement, but the strike of waiters affiliated with the waiters' union spread to the Holland House and Churchill's restaurants in Broadway. More than 200 waiters and cooks left these places.

After the strike at Churchill's there was a serious riot at Broadway and 49th street. Demonstrators fought with the police who tried to disperse them. In an effort to restore order a detective fired two shots into the air, causing a panic among the thousands who had gathered in front of the restaurant. Police reserves finally restored order.

Later the management of the restaurant agreed to grant the strikers' demands and they returned to work.

PLAYMATES MAY HAVE HANGED BOY OF 14

Body Found Three Weeks Ago—Supposed to Have Been Suicide.

Louisville, Ky., May 29.—Three weeks ago the body of Bruce Russell, 14 years old, was found hanging in the woods behind his father's house here. It was believed the lad had committed suicide, though no motive for the act could be assigned. Yesterday the boy's father told the city coroner he had witnesses who would support the story that his son was lynched.

The same day the body was found young Russell had a quarrel with some of his playmates. The authorities will reopen the investigation and hold an inquest in order to settle all doubts at rest.
